Inspiring women to develop an outward style to reveal their inner beauty!

Hello Beautiful Friend!

I enjoyed hearing from so many of you after my last newsletter with the "Which Shoe Are You" quiz! I'm so glad you enjoyed it and maybe discovered a few things about your personality.

We discovered we all have different personalities but we also all walk in different shoes everyday. If I have discovered nothing else through my recent cancer journey, I have learned more than ever that everyone has a story! I am pleased to share my journey whenever asked and, most importantly, how my faith and trust in God has carried me through every step of the way! I also want to hear your stories. It doesn't matter how big or small, but whatever you are going through I want to encourage you to never give up hope!

It is so important that we realize everyone is going through something and we, now more than ever, need to be kind to everyone we meet because we never know how much that could mean to someone. I often share the story of how on the day my husband and I met with the Radiologist and learned of my diagnosis we went to Chick-fil-A afterwards because well, doesn't that make everyone happy?! (Maybe just me!) As we placed our order in the drive thru, the young lady asked us how we were doing. We just smiled and said "doing fine". She was so sweet to us and she had no idea we had just heard life-changing news. I will never forget how she made me feel that day without knowing a thing.

I have been working on a new presentation and would love to be your guest speaker at your next ladies event to share what God has laid on my heart! It is titled "Get Up, Dress Up, Never Give Up!". Through this message I share the agony of how hard it is sometimes to just get out of bed in the morning but how important it is to do so with JOY. I also share how important it is to put on clothes that make you feel good (I will show how to choose your best colors, dress for your body shape and accessorize to complete your outfit). I will also encourage you, no matter what you are going through, to never, ever give up hope!

Feel free to contact me to discuss more on how I can work with you at your next event! In the meantime, keep walking in faith - in really cute shoes! 😊
