Inspiring women to develop an outward style to reveal their inner beauty!

Hello Beautiful Friend!

I recently shared these memory photos on my social media and wanted to share with you! This may give you a fun little "backstory" for those who may be new to following me and receiving my emails.

Twelve years ago I left the corporate world and took a huge leap of faith in obedience to what I felt God was calling me to do. (Actually, He had planted that seed a long time before, but fear, leaving my comfort zone, and not feeling qualified kept getting in the way... Anyone else gone through this?)

Thank goodness God never gave up on me and, in His perfect timing, I finally listened and took the leap! You see God had allowed me to be in some situations in my life that were hard, but through His strength, I was able to get through them. My passion has always been to encourage other women through whatever they are going through with love and grace and the promise of hope and strength only God can give.

The heart of what I share is finding true inner beauty and learning to love the woman in your mirror! We are our own worst enemy and are hardest on ourselves. We all feel better when we put on clothes we feel good in, have a flattering hair style, and a little makeup to enhance our beautiful features. I became trained and Certified as an Image Consultant but it was so much more than that!

These pictures are of my very first client I did a complete makeover with. I shared with her the most flattering colors and styles for her body shape, helped her shop for the perfect outfit, and took her to get hair and makeup done. She looked beautiful but the biggest difference is in the SMILE! She felt better about herself and more confident in the woman God created her to be.

God has since opened so many doors for me through the past 12 years as I have worked with many more clients and spoke to multiple audiences across the country. I have had the opportunity to meet so many fabulous ladies that now have permanent places in my heart!

Every woman I have met has a story they were currently going through or had been through in their past. You see, EVERYONE has a story! Through the platform God has given me, I am able to share my story (which had a new and most challenging chapter added 2 1/2 years ago) and give encouragement to those facing their own stories.

My focus is now speaking to women's groups at various events/retreats and sharing my presentation- "Get up, Dress Up, Never Give Up!"

If you have an event coming up and looking for a Speaker, I would love to talk with you! Or if you have a group that would like to have a fun workshop on learning best colors, dressing for body shape, and accessorizing to put the perfect outfit together, I would love to help!

I encourage you to lean on God for the strength you need to get through your current story and take whatever leap you need to take to follow Gods calling and believe in your beautiful self to be able to get through it!
